Dear Prospective Client,

For those of you who may be considering creating or upgrading your website, I empathize with your plight in locating a qualified and experienced programmer upon whom you may rely to provide timely and reliable assistance for all your website programming needs.

We depend on our online presence to give helpful information about our services, company history and client testimonials. Among other vital features, we also rely on our website to provide access for prospects to purchase our publications and for clients to download orders form and remit payment, etc. We were very fortunate to have located Will Woodgate as he has consistently risen to the occasion keeping our website current and fully functional.

We have been utilizing Will Woodgate's services for over 10 years and he has helped us customize our theme, add needed features and functions, fix third-party bugs, institute effective changes to our design and layout, trouble-shoot challenges with software and program updates which conflict, and account for constant changes in Google algorithms.

I hope you give this gifted, passionate and dedicated man whose award-winning themes have touched the lives of some many people. Every business is filled with the never-ending dilemma of balancing time, energy and money. I believe you will find Will Woodgate not only delivers great value on all three, but that you should feel as comfortable and confident recommending him to others as we have done over the years.

Sincerely, Jay Butler
Managing Director
